

DT Embroidery

Running stitch

Running stitch is a basic stitch used to outline or mark up areas before sewing.

Embroidery thread

This thread is thicker than normal cotton (it has 6 strands) and means that you can fill big areas more quickly. You use a bigger needle with embroidery thread.

Embroidery is the art of sewing on to cloth to create a pattern or picture using a needle and thread.

Cross stitch

Cross stitch is a decorative stitch that is used to fill areas in.

Needle

A needle is used in sewing to pull thread through cloth.
